Save the Date: 10th Annual Sips & Suppers January 27th and 28th, 2018

Celebrated Chefs, Mixologists, and Philanthropists Work to Fight Hunger and Poverty in the Nation's Capital

November 1, 2017 – WASHINGTON, DC – Washington, DC-based nonprofit partners DC Central Kitchen and Martha's Table announced today that the 10th Annual Sips & Suppers will take place on Saturday, January 27th and Sunday, January 28th, 2018.

On Saturday night, January 27th, hundreds of District foodies will gather at the NEWSEUM to sample the hottest local foods, cocktails and wines from the area's leading chefs and mixologists. VIP ticket holders will have the opportunity to meet the honorary chairs of the event, José Andrés, Joan Nathan and Alice Waters and receive a signed copy of either Joan Nathan's new cookbook "King Solomon's Table: A Culinary Exploration of Jewish Cooking from Around the World," or Alice Waters' new revelatory memoir, "Coming to My Senses: The Making of a Counterculture Cook."

On Sunday, January 28, guests will dine in the homes of more than 35 generous hosts throughout the DC area, feasting on gourmet meals prepared by many of the nation's most acclaimed chefs with each course paired with fine wines supplied by wine stores and vineyards throughout the region.

Sips & Suppers is the brainchild of culinary greats José Andrés, Joan Nathan, and Alice Waters, who began the event in 2009 as a means of raising awareness of hunger and poverty in the District of Columbia. Now in its 10th Anniversary year, this extraordinary fundraiser unites some of our nation's greatest chefs with a growing community of local philanthropists and activists in support of two organizations leading the fight against hunger in our nation's capital: DC Central Kitchen and Martha's Table. Since its inception, Sips & Suppers has raised over $3 million for these two iconic nonprofits. This generous investment has helped DC Central Kitchen prepare 22 million healthy, balanced meals for DC kids and families, while equipping nearly 1,000 men and women with the skills needed to overcome histories of incarceration, homelessness, and trauma and pursue culinary careers. At Martha's Table, these funds have directly impacted children, families, and neighbors. Over the past 10 years, Martha's Table has been able to provide over 6 million healthy meals, expand no-cost Joyful Food Markets to 39 elementary schools in Southeast DC, providing over 5,000 students access to healthy fresh produce each month, and support children and families through high-quality education programs.

Sips & Suppers would not be possible without the support of our sponsors, including Whole Foods, Amalgamated Bank and JP Morgan, as well as the generous donations from our suppliers and partners.

About DC Central Kitchen

As the nation's first and leading community kitchen, DC Central Kitchen develops and operates social ventures targeting the cycle of hunger and poverty. The organization's life-changing ventures provide culinary training to jobless adults, turn wasted food into balanced meals for shelters and nonprofits, expand access to healthy food, and provide healthy, scratch-cooked meals in low-income schools. These efforts have been recognized with the leading national award for healthy school food innovation, The Golden Carrot; the Washington Business Journal's Green Business Award for Innovation; and the DC Chamber of Commerce's Community Impact Award. About Martha's Table

For over 35 years, Martha's Table has worked to support stronger children, stronger families, and stronger communities by increasing access to quality education, healthy food, and family support in Washington, DC. Martha's Table's Healthy Eating program operates dozens of free pop-up grocery markets across the city, and its Healthy Start and Healthy Connections programs offer premier early childhood education and older youth programming. In addition, the organization runs emergency support programs, including McKenna's Wagon, a daily mobile food truck that serves hundreds of meals to homeless and hungry residents every night; a daily emergency mini market, open 7 days a week; and two affordable thrift stores, Martha's Outfitters, which offer a no-cost shopping program for neighbors in need.
